Work Offered

Cogoport, a start up, is a freight facilitator in the logistics space, using cutting edge technology to provide end to end solutions for exporters/importers with the help of forwarders, truckers and CHA's using real time pricing algorithms. Cogoport doesn't differentiate between an intern and a fresher full-time employee. Even being an intern, your responsibilities and learnings remain the same. Startups are the coolest place to work at as your age doesn't matter as much as your passion does and so rather than working on mundane tasks, you get to work on some really challenging problems.

Job Profile: Software Intern - Back End

The intern will work on building elegant products using cutting - edge technologies like Ruby on Rails, Python and develop a world - class platform while ensuring high performance and scalability using proper design principles and gain an opportunity to learn new technologies.
